Written by a licensed Christian counselor and social worker of thirty years' experience, The Parenting Business: Hindsight Is 20/20 is a simple guide to dealing with tough emotional and physical problems. From learning how to seize opportunities to connect with children, to dealing out discipline that is neither too strict nor too coddling, to coping with raw emotions after difficult or traumatic events, and much more, The Parenting Business is a welcome and useful guide not only for parents, but also for caregivers of children from teenage babysitters to licensed professionals.
